To

T.Ananda Rao Esq., C.I.E.,
Dewan of Mysore.

Dear Sir,

I have the honor, on behalf of the Council of the Theological College of South India, established last July in Bangalore, to make request of you to be so good to reserve for the purposes of the College, a portion of the land situated between Sheshadri Road and Cenotaph Road, now being acquired by the Government of Mysore The College Council are prepared to purchase the land referred to, and deem about seven acres to be sufficient for the necessary College Buildings, Hostel, and Principal's Home.

The reasons that prompt the Council to approach you in this way are -

1st, The nature of the College on behalf of which the land is needed The College is being established by the co-operation of several Missionary Societies and is intended to provide a higher Theological Education such as is provided for in Western Universities, to all students who are in search of such in South India Besides the sciences peculiar to Christian Theology, provision is being made for the study of the general

Dear Mr Ananda Rao,

I enclose an application for land for a site for our College, about which we had a conversation a few weeks ago

Mr Lamsen and I inspected the land you then suggested and undoubtedly it would make a splendid site There is however a large bungalow half-erected in the centre of the land which we would find it hard to adapt to our purpose, would add very considerably to the cost of acquiring it The existing small bungalow could be used, but this other is a real difficulty

We all feel that [redacted] a site as ours
